

AMERICA'S ALLEGED PROPOSAL TO FAVOR

Delegates Were Amazed at Secretary Hughes' Blunt Statement—Calls For Immediate Reduction of the Fleets of Great Britain, the United States and Japan and For a Ten Year Naval Holiday—Would Strip the United States of Cruisers—Suggests an Agreement to Limit the Size of Battle Fleets Permanently—Actual Business of the Conference Will Get Under Way Today.

Washington, Nov. 12.—(By the A. P.)—The American delegation to the conference on naval disarmament held at the Waldorf-Astoria today, after a preliminary session, announced that Secretary Hughes' blunt statement to the delegates of the United States, Great Britain, Japan, and the United States of America, was a surprise to all. The statement was that the United States proposed a ten year naval holiday, and that it would strip the United States of its cruisers, and that it would limit the size of its battle fleets permanently.

BRITISH COMMENT ON PROPOSALS OF HUGHES

London, Nov. 14.—The Daily Chronicle, remarking that Secretary Hughes has added a rider to the usual concept that naval disarmament is a political settlement, may proceed simultaneously. He may be right. At any rate, it is a great thing on the very first day of the conference to have brought down so big a quarry to discuss. It is better so than to hold up the design of the superstructure, as they did at Paris, while the deep foundations of the conference were being laid.

The newspaper says the world is indebted to the United States for its broad view of the situation. It is a great thing on the very first day of the conference to have brought down so big a quarry to discuss. It is better so than to hold up the design of the superstructure, as they did at Paris, while the deep foundations of the conference were being laid.

Statistics as to the gun power of the three fleets to be retained under the reduction program show that the United States and Japan would have one ship each mounting eight sixteen inch rifles.

Great Britain would have ten ships carrying ten 14-inch guns each. Two carrying ten 14-inch guns and her other seven ships would be armed with the British 15.5 guns. She would have seven of these.

Takahashi Becomes Premier of Japan

Appointment is Regarded as Indicating the Waning Power of the Militarists.

Tokyo, Nov. 13 (by the A. P.)—Baron Korekiyo Takahashi, minister of finance, was today appointed premier of Japan, succeeding Baron Kato, who was assassinated November 4.

The appointment of Baron Takahashi is generally regarded in political circles as a favorable indication of the waning of the power of the militarists and as an indication of the return of the "peaceable foreign policy" of Premier Hara.

Baron Takahashi, accompanied by Viscount Makino, minister of foreign affairs, proceeded to the palace this morning for the installation of the premier, which took place in the presence of Marquis Matsukata, lord keeper of the seals; Viscount Makino, minister of the imperial household, and Count Ogimachi, the grand chamberlain.

In addition to the premiership, Baron Takahashi will continue as minister of finance and acting minister of the navy.

The other ministers in the Hara cabinet will retain their posts.

His appointment is believed to doubly assure, in the opinion of Japanese, that no modifications will be made in the Japanese conference program as formulated under the Hara regime.

Recently the new premier declared that if Japan wished to maintain her position as one of the five great powers, she must have a navy which is equal to the navies of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan.

He also declared that Japan would not be content with a navy which is equal to the navies of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan.

Mrs. Geo. Jay Gould Dies on Golf Links

Husband Just After Making a Drive.

Lakewood, N. J., Nov. 13.—Mrs. George Jay Gould, wife of the capitalist, died today while playing golf with her husband on the private links at Georgian Court, a suburb of Lakewood.

She had just finished a drive at the fifth tee and her husband was watching the flight of the ball when she collapsed without a word. Mr. Gould turned to speak to her and was astonished to see her lying across the tee. Thinking his wife had merely stumbled, Mr. Gould hastened to assist her to her feet, but when she failed to speak to him, he became alarmed and sent the caddy on a hurry call for physicians.

Dr. Gresser, who lives at Lakewood, reached the links quickly. A brief examination convinced them that Mrs. Gould was dead and that heart disease had been the cause.

Mrs. Gould appeared to be in excellent health when she walked to the links with her husband a few minutes before the fatal stroke. She was dressed in a light blue suit and carried a golf bag.

She was a well-known figure in the golfing world and was a member of the Lakewood Golf Club. She was a devoted wife and mother and was much loved by her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Gould arrived at the links this morning in All Saints' Memorial church and on their return to Georgian Court, they were met by their children.

News of their mother's death was sent immediately to the seven children, five of whom were in New York. The eldest, Mr. J. P. Gould, formerly of the New York City Police Department, was in New York at the time of the death.

Funeral arrangements were not completed tonight, but it was planned to send the body to Mr. Gould's Fifth Avenue home in New York tomorrow morning.
